

It is time XRAY XB4
It is time for the all-new XRAY 1/10 buggy, the new XB4...the new trend setter...the new beast to beat.

It's time to raise the bar in the 1/10 buggy class.

It is time to bring high quality, high performance and premium support & service to the 1/10 buggy category.

XRAY
XB4

"To create an all new platform in a new class is the most demanding and difficult task for an RC car designer. The benefit is that since you are starting from zero there are no limitations other than your imagination.

To design and develop this buggy was an incredibly challenging project. Nearly 2 years were spent in prototyping and development and the XRAY factory off-road team has tested many different designs and configurations ranging from conservative to crazy.

I am very happy and very proud to present you the final design chosen after extensive testing around the world in various conditions by some of the world's best drivers and backed-up with the artistic craftsmanship of our in-house XRAY factory production specialists. Designed, developed and fully manufactured in Slovakia, Europe, with XRAY's legendary attention to the details, fine materials and extreme performance, I am excited to present you the all-new XB4."
